Foreword

In our annual, "The Chief," we proudly present a pictorial review of our happy years at Etowah High School. This is a storehouse of happy memories portraying the shining days that cost so little and yet may not be bought again. We have tried to collect various scenes showing work and play, as both are a part of our experience here. If, in the years to come, this book will help us to recall the joys we have shared and friendships we have made, we will be pleased.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class and Staff of "The Chief" dedicate this annual to "Our High School Faculty."

To these teachers, as a group and as individuals, we pay tribute. They have stood by us when we needed help, have responded to our call, have been most understanding when we failed to do our best. They have helped to make our school life enjoyable, as well as worthwhile.

We can truthfully say, our teacher-friends have done their share in helping us to reach our goals.

ATHLETICS

Girls' Basketball Team

Many of the girls at Etowah are interested in Basketball as evidenced by the number reporting for practice. Fifteen games were played by the girls and though only three games were won, the team played well together and showed a fine spirit of sportsmanship throughout the season.

Boys' Basketball Team

We are proud of the record made by the boys' team this season. Out of fourteen games played, prior to the tournaments, only one game was lost—that by only one point. They placed second in the Henderson County Tournament, played two games in the Canton Gold Medal Tournament, and one game in the Enka Championship Tournament. The boys' team displayed good team work in all their games.

Class Poem

By Aleen Baynard

*While the years have passed away
We have worked to reach our goal,
And as we journey on each day
We'll have dear memories to hold.*

*'Tis sad to part from comrades dear,
Ev'en though often we may meet,
'Twill never seem the same as here
Nor friendships 'ere as sweet.*

*Dear teachers, parents and our friends
All our gratitude is yours.
Your love, understanding, sympathy
Is a kind that forever endures.*

*Now we come to the end of the way
With saddened hearts and dewy eyes.
Etowah School, our Alma Mater,
We'll always hold dear in our lives.*

*This is a time for looking forward
To our future bright and clear,
When we each must face tomorrow
Strengthened by our years spent here.*

1947 Class History

By J. W. Marona and Bruce Morgan

We, the class of 1947, pause to look back to 1935 when we entered our first year at Etowah. Those were days filled with exciting new experiences. When as six-year-olds, the school bus could not come soon enough in the morning to take us to our happy destination—Etowah High School. There were about 50 in our class that year; and of that number only J. W. Marona, Marvin Orr, Bruce Morgan, Bob Merrill, Bruce Hollingsworth, and one girl—Euva Sentelle, are here for the graduation year.

In the second year of our school life another girl joined us and has stayed throughout the years. She is Sara Sue Norris, who came from Brevard. Ruth Sexton came from Mills River in our third year. Then in the fourth year, Alma and Aleen Baynard, from South Carolina, joined us in our march onward. As we look backward, these years seemed uneventful; but then they were most important. Each year revealed new subjects taught by new teachers and they opened doors in our minds that nothing can close.

When we reached the fifth grade some of our members began to leave us. From there on we have only three who have come to join the class and stay. They are Jack Bryson from Mills River in the sixth grade; Faye Gossett, from Brevard High School, in the tenth grade; and James Austin from Leicester, in the eleventh grade.

In the fall of 1943 we found ourselves known as High School Freshmen. "Green" was the traditional word used to describe us and we were called it plenty of times; but we felt ourselves a most vital part of Etowah High School. Our number of class mates was 22 and because of our small number we began a high school experience characterized by close cooperativeness which we have found has made us a happy class all the way.

In our second year of high school we began to participate even more in our school's activities. Some of our members joined the Glee Club and others took part in softball and basketball practice. That year, too, we planned and sponsored a banquet for the Senior Class.

We were Jolly Juniors in the fall of 1945. That was a unique year, since the twelfth grade was added to public schools of North Carolina. For the first time Etowah had no graduation class. We found ourselves occupying the Senior homes and naturally enjoyed some special privileges. For instance we took a "Sneak Day" as the regular senior class would have done. An enjoyable day was spent at Mt. Pisgah. During the latter part of that year we started a new cannery in place of the one that burned that year. Most of us had joined F.H.A. and F.F.A. Clubs by this year.

Last fall we found ourselves beginning the last year of our march toward our goal—graduation. Students have come and gone until only 13 of our class remained. We feel proud, even if our number is small, to be the first class to complete twelve years of study at Etowah High School.

This has proved to be our most important year of school. We have organized and planned a monthly school paper that we named "The Little Chief." We are publishing an annual this year, too, "The Chief", the first edition since 1942. Also, we have been the first graduating class to eat in the new Lunchroom completed this year. Seven of our number were on the basketball teams this season. The boys won a second place trophy for our Alma Mater in the Henderson County Tournament.

Another outstanding feature of this last year is the special radio broadcasts that we have taken part in over station W.H.K.P. These programs were sponsored by our F.F.A. and F.H.A. Clubs. These clubs, also, sponsored a delightful banquet during the winter months.

Now we are looking forward to our Junior-Senior Banquet and the class play. The plans for both events make us eager for their arrival. Then will come the most important night of all—graduation night—when our last tie with our Alma Mater, Etowah High School, will be broken. The past twelve years have been interesting and profitable and now that they are almost over, we are saddened by their ending.

The horizon looms large and empty before us. We know not what lies before our limited vision—but we are not afraid. We ask much of life, but we hesitate to pay the price—that of extensive and concentrated learning. Most of us have our particular field of work chosen, and we are educating ourselves along that line. Up to a certain point, we are guided and our small individual burdens are willingly shouldered by others, but after that we must work alone. So let us strive for many and varied weapons of skill to help us later in life against the battles of discouragement and unemployment when we no longer have the help of our parents and teachers to shield us. So, for the class of '47, we bid you FAREWELL!

Last Will and Testament of The Class of 1947

By Ruth Sexton and Faye Gossett

We, the Seniors of E. H. S., of the class of 1947, leaving behind our cherished Alma Mater for the last time, and entering into a new phase of the life beyond, do hereby part with our worldly possessions in the following prescribed manner:

I, Euva Sentelle, will and bequeath my typing ability to Jean McCall, and my position on the basketball team to Molly Killian.

I, Alma Baynard, will and bequeath my Business Arithmetic book to Betty Jean Baynard and my neatness to Emily Morgan.

I, Sue Norris, will and bequeath my sunny disposition to Wilma Hollingsworth, and my talent as a heart-breaker to Peggy Owens.

I, Aleen Baynard, will and bequeath my ability to translate French to Charlesteen Scott, and my poetic ability to Delma Sams.

I, Ruth Sexton, will and bequeath my wavy hair and pretty clothes to Inez Johnson, and my singing ability to Lois Parker.

I, Faye Gossett, will and bequeath my position as president of the Home Economics Club to Myrtle Robertson, and my beauty-queen title to my sisters, Elizabeth and Grace.

I, Bruce Hollingsworth, do will and bequeath my wavy hair and brown eyes to Harold Allison, and my ability to swipe the teacher's apples to either of my brothers who can get by with it as easily as I have.

I, Jack Bryson, will and bequeath my ability to aggravate the teachers to Carl Killian, Jr., and my cute ways to Carrol Kuykendoll.

I, Marvin Orr, will and bequeath my good sportsmanship to Jimmy McKinna, and my loud voice to Charles Davis.

I, Bob Merrill, will and bequeath my ability to skip classes to Steve Hensley, and my position as captain of the Basketball team to Landrum Wilson.

I, Bruce Morgan, will and bequeath my handsomeness to Jack Justus, and my ability to study to Bill McCall.

I, J. W. Marona, will and bequeath my joking manner to Gordon Whitesides, and to my brother, Derwood, my promptness in preparing my lessons.

I, James Austin, will and bequeath my big brown eyes to James Davis and my quietness to Bob Greer.

To our teachers, who have willingly and patiently helped us to attain our goal, we leave fond memories and hopes for the continuation of the wonderful work they have done.

And last, and most important to us, we leave to our beloved Etowah High School our ability, as a group, to co-operate, and work together harmoniously; and memories of the many happy years we have enjoyed here.

Class Prophecy

By Alma Baynard

Ten years have passed and the class of '47 has scattered hither and yon. Now it is May 27, 1957; and if you will turn your radio to television station W.H.K.P. you may see the class in their present habitat. Each loyal member is at his nearest station and we will bring them to your home circle for a short visit.

Flash! New York: Here is Miss Faye Gossett, beauty queen of Etowah High. She is now a model in New York and next year she is to play the leading role in the picture, "The Skies Are Always Blue".

Flash! Etowah: Presenting Miss Euva Sentelle. She is now an "old-maid school teacher" at Etowah High School, and she declares that the right man hasn't asked her yet.

Flash! Brevard: Here is Mrs. Carl Killian, Jr., the former Miss Aleen Baynard. Though busy with household tasks, Aleen is finding time to train her little six-year-old daughter for a musical career.

Flash! California: Presenting Miss Sue Norris. Nurse Sue has just gone aboard the liner, "The Lonely Heart", sailing for New York. She expects to treat that dreadful disease called "Love".

Flash! Asheville: Presenting Miss Ruth Sexton, one of the most popular nurses at the Mission Hospital. Her favorite remedies are sleeping powders for the patient and nerve tonic for the hospital staff.

Flash! Hendersonville: Here is Mrs. Bruce Morgan, the former Miss Alma Baynard. She is a beauty operator and perfected a special beauty treatment—straightening curly hair.

Flash! Etowah: Presenting Mr. J. W. Marona. Foreman of the Moreland Drysdale Corp., Etowah, N. C.—A well liked community man and school patron.

Flash! Michigan: Presenting Mr. Marvin Orr. We see him busy in his own mechanic shop in Detroit. He and his wife and four youngsters are living in a beautiful Southern Colonial home in the select residential section of the city.

Flash! Hendersonville: Presenting Mr. Bruce Morgan, owner and manager of Morgan's Electrical Appliance Shop in Hendersonville. He is still hoping the government will arrange things so he can retire at an early age and live on an old age pension.

Flash! New York: Here is Mr. Bruce Hollingsworth. We see him in the famous Madison Square Garden giving his basketball squad the last workout before a big game. He is trainer for Chicago University.

Flash! Philippines: James Austin has finished his training and is now Dr. James Austin, physician. From experience in High School he thinks it is wise to know how to set broken bones.

Flash! Etowah: Mr. Jack Bryson is now vacationing in the beautiful Land-of-the-Sky between basketball seasons. From high school ball games he joined a professional team and makes ball playing his occupation.

Flash! Philadelphia: Presenting Mr. Robert Merrill. Bob as you would expect is on the main street of Philadelphia selling advertisements. He is leading advertiser for Good Housekeeping, wife Grace's favorite magazine.

Back to station W.H.K.P. in our own home town. You have had a brief glance at the members of that popular class of 1947. Each of them seem happy and content in their chosen fields. We are proud of the success they have achieved and our good wishes go to them in their future years.
